

DAU Students Offered Free Membership to NDIA

All DAU students are eligible for a complimentary three year membership to the National Defense Industrial Association. NDIA is a partnership between industry and government that is driving the future of defense and national security. NDIA facilitates networking opportunities with the government-industry team, and allows individuals to keep abreast of the latest in technology developments, and address and influence issues as well as government policies critical to the health of the defense industry and the preservation of our national security.

The association's membership base consists of over 1,200 corporate members and more than 39,000 individuals from the entire spectrum of the defense and national industrial base. The association offers the opportunity to increase knowledge, contacts, and hear from the movers and shakers in the various fields through its network of divisions and chapters and over 80 technical and policy symposia and convention-exhibit programs each year. Membership to NDIA also includes a subscription to the monthly National Defense magazine and the annual Mega Directory, a handy reference of corporate capabilities and the defense acquisition community. NDIA also provides plenty of networking opportunities in most parts of the nation through local chapters, plus members get savings on air travel and car rentals. Click here to register.
